Elmer Gleason, a former resident of Woodford, died Jan. 20 in North Dana, Mass., where he had lived for six years. He was in his 90th year. While a resident of Woodford, he was town representative several times, selectman for a number of years and a prominent man. He was in the lumber business a large part of his life and after his removal to Massachusetts followed the carpenter's trade, in which he engaged up to within a few days of his death.

ENJOYING HER WORK.

Graduate Nurse of Rutland Hospital Writes from War Zone.

To watch the old year out while in charge of 160 snoring patients was the lot of Miss Helena E. McKee, formerly of Rutland, who is at the Mount Dore Military hospital at Bournemouth, Eng. Two of the cases were under guard. One of these was a poor lad who had lost courage and did not want to live. He had "swallowed his fork for excitement, but the surgeon recovered it and left his eating equipment still complete." The other was mentally unbalanced. Still an- ica 241/2@25c other one to be taken care of on New Year's night was a prisoner to whom Miss McKee acted as jailor. Still she remarks in a letter to Mrs. H. O. Coolidge: "But it is a great life and I must | 37c. say I am very happy and enjoy my work. Feel as though I never want to do private work again."

The letter was written at 2:30 o'clock of New Year's morning and Miss Mc-Kee said: "I watched the old year out all right. Promised to wake up the 160 patients but my courage failed me when the time came so I let them snore on."

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other in-gredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to Mrs. C.
